3.0 Policy Principles

There can be no excuses for not taking all reasonable action to protect children and adults at risk from abuse or neglect. All citizens of the United Kingdom have their rights enshrined within the Human Rights Act 1998. People who are eligible to receive health and community care services may be additionally vulnerable to the violation of these rights by reason of disability, impairment, age or illness.

Kelbrook and Sough Village Hall charity has a zero-tolerance approach to abuse.

Kelbrook and Sough Village Hall charity recognises that under the Care Act 2014, it has a duty of care and protection of adults who are at risk of abuse. It also recognises its responsibilities for the safety and care of children under the Children Act 1989 and 2004.

Kelbrook and Sough Village Hall charity is committed to promoting wellbeing, harm prevention and to responding effectively if concerns are raised.

Kelbrook and Sough Village Hall charity is aware of the work of their local Safeguarding Board/Partnership and other support organisations on the development and implementation of procedures for the protection of children and adults at risk. The policy is about stopping abuse where it is happening and preventing abuse where there is a risk that it may occur.

Kelbrook and Sough Village Hall Committee is committed to the following principles:

All children, young people and adults at risk have the right to protection from abuse.
